Poses as Maid, Uncovers $1,500,000 Dope Hoard

Woman Detective Gives Tip

Pair Held, Cocaine Seized

NEW YORK — (INS) — A veteran policewoman today was credited with shattering a vital link in a nationwide drug chain and the confiscation of cocaine worth $1,500,000 at peddlers' prices.

It was the second time in her 20-year career that Detective Margaret Mabel Leonard, attached to the New York narcotics squad, has successfully assumed roles to uncover drug suspects.

Her latest pose, as a chambermaid, led directly to the arrest yesterday of Jose Gonzalez, 29, Ralph Lopez, 32, and his brother John, 38, and seizure of 110 ounces of pure cocaine.

SUPPLIED NATION

Gonzalez and Ralph Lopez are being held under $50,000 bail each and John Lopez without bail for hearings tomorrow.

Both FBI agents and New York police say the three men were the supply source for dope peddlers throughout the country, and are seeking also to establish them with drug shipments from Peru, Chile and Venezuela.

Police said they obtained information for recently-arrested peddlers implicating the trio as operators of a cocaine clearing house. Detective Leonard was assigned to the case and obtained a job as domestic in the rooming house in which the men lived.

Late Saturday after two months of investigation, she tipped her superiors that it was time to act. Ralph Lopez was arrested in a car on upper Broadway and police said he was carrying 50 ounces of cocaine and $2,700 in cash. A search of the rooming house uncovered the other 60 ounces.

The other time that Miss Leonard officially assumed a role other than that of detective was seven years ago when she posed as a lower East Side housewife and lived in a cold-water flat to get the evidence which led to the smashing of a small drug ring.

Strategy for Peace Asked

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Bernard M. Baruch declared today that the United States will fight "should war be forced upon us" but asserted that a "peace strategy" must be adopted to lessen the chances of armed conflict.

The elder statesman told the 1949 United States conference of mayors:

"The crux of our problem is that there is no peace. We must deal with this first. . . Nothing can have meaning except as it is related to our peace strategy—a strategy we still lack."

Baruch, in a sweeping address touching upon many critical points in the world picture and the domestic scene, insisted:

The United States must decide whether it is to continue to "bear so many of the burdens of the world" or whether other nations are to "assume a greater share."

Prices and wages should be stabilized, but "it is futile to talk of free enterprise with a threat of war overhanging, for free enterprise needs peace to function."

"There is too much emphasis on the alleged need for purchasing power. What the country needs is stable purchasing power."

Truman, Congress Just Pals

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman today denounced "trouble makers" who talk of a rift between him and Congress. He said he and Congress are "working together" for the good of the country.

"Of course, I differ with the action of the Congress on some points, and where these differences are important I shall continue to urge the course I think is right.

"But basically the Congress and the President are working together and will continue to work together for the good of the country."

Blows Kill Student At Dartmouth

College Orders Social Crackdown

HANOVER, N. H. — (INS) — Dartmouth college authorities mapped today a drastic crackdown on social activities at the college following the fatal beating of a student.

Thomas A. Doxsee, 21, of Fayetteville, N. Y., was arrested by police on a first degree manslaughter charge in connection with the death of Raymond J. Cirrotta, of Linden, N. J., a Dartmouth junior, following an alleged dormitory brawl.

Doxsee was released in $2,000 bail, furnished by the college, pending his arraignment in municipal court.

Five other students were ordered to appear in court as material witnesses and were suspended from the college pending the outcome of the case.

The students suspended because of Cirrotta's death were: Elden B. Peck, jr., Cambridge, Mass., Charles T. McCarthy, jr., Andover, Mass., William C. Felton, Tiffin, Ohio: Geroge G. Schreck, North Bergen, N. J., and Robert A. Fox, of Philadelphia.

The death of the Dartmouth student climaxed a long series of serious incidents which allegedly have resulted from student drinking bouts on and off the campus.

Cirrotta was found stiting on his bed by a roommate an hour after the alleged fight Friday night. He died four hours later in Mary Hitchcock hospital.

Doxsee and his five companions allegedly were on a drinking tour of other fraternity houses when they remembered a grudge they held against Cirrotta and decided to look him up. As he answered a knock on his door, he was felled by blows.

At Linden, N. J., a spokesman for the dead youth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Cirrotta, declared they planned to engage counsel and press charges against all six of the students involved in their son's death.

It's Time to Make Those Derby Racers

Boys, get out your hammers and saws!

The eighth annual News-Journal Soap Box Derby has been scheduled for Mansfield's Derby Downs in July. The date will be announced later.

Touted as the "greatest amateur racing event in the world," the coaster race competition is for youngsters 11 to 15 years of age. Dick Jordan won the 1948 Mansfield Derby and raced to a tie for 13th in a field of more than 120 youngsters in the nationals in Akron.

It's easy to enter the Derby and now is the time to start building. Rule books and entry blanks are available at Brandenburg Chevrolet, co-sponsor of the Mansfield race with the News-Journal.

Not more than $6, plus the cost of wheel sets and steering gear, may be spent on any racer and youngsters must build their own cars. This year, no power tools may be used in construction, which gives every youngster an even break.

Wheel sets are being sold at Linham's Automobile Supply, B. F. Goodrich store and Firestone store.

BOY CLAWED BY TWO POLAR BEARS—Donald Carey, 13, (left) was clawed on both legs, arms and the body by two polar bears, Snowball (left, right photo) and her mate, Frisky, at the St. Louis zoo. Donald had climbed a four-foot fence and was sitting on the edge of a concrete moat with his feet dangling when Snowball pulled him into the pit.

Pay Boosted 640 Million

Railroads Shorten Week

CHICAGO — (AP) — Final terms on a $640,000,000 a year wage boost have been reached in the 11-month dispute between the nation's railroads and 16 non-operating unions.

The settlement, worked out on a formula recommended by a presidential fact-finding board, was described by a union spokesman as the "most momentous" wage and hour movement in the history of American industry.

It will extend the basic 40-hour week to the railroads for the first time and affects 1,000,000 employes.

The 40-hour week at the same pay the workers received for 48 hours becomes effective next Sept. 1, but an additional wage boost of seven cents an hour is retroactive to last Oct. 1. Excepted from the general terms of the "third round" wage boost are the yardmasters who will continue on a six-day week with an increase of 10 cents an hour.

On a straight time rate, the average hourly wage is raised from $1.18 to $1.46.

The unions' original demands were for a 40-hour week, Mondays through Fridays at no pay reduction, time and a half for Saturdays, double time for Sundays, and an increase of 25 cents an hour. The roads refused the shorter work week and overtime rates and offered a 10-cent pay hike.

Reports Big Gifts to UJA

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Two big gifts to the $250,000,000 campaign of the United Jewish Appeal were announced today by General Chairman Henry Morgenthau, Jr.

Morgenthau said Abraham Maser, a member of the paper industry in New York, had given $500,000, the largest single gift of the drive. Another contribution was $250,000 from Charles Fruchtman, retired businessman of Toledo.

Earlier, representatives of 126 Jewish communities presented checks totalling $26,945,000 to help the transfer of Jews from Europe and North Africa to Israel, and to ease the plight of refugees newly arrived there.

Mercury Zooms to 57

Spring and Weather Keep Tryst In City

Spring officially arrived at 5:49 p. m. yesterday, and Mother Nature finally got her seasons straightened out today as Mansfielders enjoyed the first mild weather in several weeks.

The temperature was 57 at noon and the weatherman predicted the mercury would rise above 65 degrees throughout the state today.

But the balmy temperature was accompanied by typical March winds which sent Mansfielders chasing down streets to recover hats and scarfs.

The first spring flowers were making their debut today while others sent up exploratory shoots to make sure the snow had gone.

However, the weatherman put a damper on the pretty spring picture with the forecast that winter will return tomorrow night as a cold air mass from the northwest follows the present southern circulation into the state.

The official forecast is for mild, cloudy weather today and tomorrow with possible showers tonight. Tonight temperatures will remain above the freezing mark.

Last night was the first time in several days that temperatures remained above freezing in Mansfield. The official low for the period ended at 7:30 a. m. today was 40 degrees at 1:30 a.m.

12 Fined In Rioting

LONDON — (AP) — Twelve men who proudly admitted breaking up a march of members of Sir Oswald Mosley's fascistic "Union Movement" were fined $20 each in a magistrate's court today.

Rioting broke out over a wide area of London's squalid East End last night when followers of Sir Oswald clashed with communists and other opponents. About 20 persons were injured slightly, including eight police.

The 12 who were arraigned pleaded guilty to charges of obstructing police assigned to protect the Mosely marchers, and of using "insulting words". Eleven others arrested on the same charges will be arraigned in April.

Hundreds of men and women, a majority of them wearing bright red ties, gathered outside the court during the arraignment.

Several hundred police struggled with rioters for hours last night. The demonstrators battled with fists, threw firecrackers, and scattered glass marbles and steel ball bearings to make the police lose their footing.

Finns Receive Red Warning

MOSCOW —(UP)— An official Soviet organ accused Finland today of violating the peace treaty and warned the Finns that the only way they could get along was by being friendly with Russia.

Finland was accused of violating articles of the peace treaty by freeing convicted war criminals and by secret rearming and military training.

LONDON — (AP) — Influenza is sweeping Britain. There were 321 deaths last week.

Hat Clue to Drowning

TOLEDO —(INS)— A week-end fishing trip turned into a fatal excursion for eight-year-old Claude Lantz of nearby Genoa.

The lad drowned late yesterday when he fell from the bank of an abandoned stone quarry just outside the city.

According to Wood county Sheriff Merlin Budd, Claude's disappearance was noted when his brother, Sylvester, and two companions noticed his hat floating on the water. The three boys notified the sheriff, who recovered the body several hours later.

Auction Jewels

HOLLYWOOD —(AP)— The jewels, clothes and household furnishings of movie queen Carole Landis, who killed herself, will be auctioned tonight.

Fire Hurts Mother, 2 Children

Flames Sweep Apartment

A five-year-old Mansfield child was confined to General hospital today, victim of a blaze late Saturday that injured his mother and a twin brother and destroyed their converted garage home at the rear of 201 East Third street.

Fire Chief L. J. Steele, who ordered the building razed today, said Wayne Tackett, his wife, and four small children, were saved from possible death in the one-exit, two-room dwelling by another child, Manuel Tackett, 15, who roused the family when he saw flames licking at the doorway.

The youth, firemen said, returned home shortly before 9:30 p. m. Saturday to find the only exit to the apartment on fire. Mrs. Tackett and the five-year-old twins, Danny and Donny, were burned as they ran through the flames to safety. Donny was still in General hospital today suffering from burns on the head and arms. All three suffered second-degree burns in the escape. The father and two other children, Reed, 9, and Frieda, 11, were uninjured.

ONLY ONE EXIT

Chief Steele today said the converted garage occupied by the Tackett family and by Jack and Ernest Baker, absent at the time of the fire, had only a front exit and the construction was in violation of the Ohio State fire code.

He added that the fire would be investigated. The owner is Leonard R. Psimer, 201 East Third street, the chief said.

Cause of the fire is still undetermined. Firemen from Central station, who answered the alarm, said the garage burned like a tinder box and that it was mainly of plywood and tar paper construction. Firemen said overhead wiring or stored cleaning fluid might have caused the fire.

Also damaged by the fire was a trailer, parked near the garage and owned by Hoyt Amsbaugh.

The Tackett family, which moved to Mansfield from Kentucky about a month ago, was sheltered at the home of Tackett's brother, Dewey Tackett, 105 Sturges avenue, today.

Fund Climbs To $32,008

Red Cross campaign funds passed the $32,000-mark today, with $32,008.49 reported from the Mansfield area. No new returns were reported from Shelby, where the figure stood today at $3,643.

Campaign workers must turn in approximately $16,800 more by the end of the month to meet their goal of $48,835.

Added to the list of 100 per cent firms were the following: Kearns Packing company, Tracy and Avery, Central Fruit and Grocery company, Smoke House, Office of Drs. Wilson and McCormick, Prosecuting Attorney's office, Sky club, Theohar cafe, Petres cafe, Cris Drye, office of Supt. of Schools W. L. Miller, Mansfield Rug and Linoleum company, Richland Shale Brick company, Independent Towel Supply company and the Newman school.

Mark Banned, Value Drops

BERLIN — (UP) — The Soviet mark plunged to a new low of 10 to one in the western sectors of Berlin today only a few hours after it was outlawed by the three western powers.

Lord Mayor Ernst Reuter told a cheering western Berlin city assembly that the western action proved the allies meant to stay and protect Berlin.

Value of the Soviet mark dropped more than 100 per cent before noon. The exchange rate for the past few weeks has been four and one-half Soviet marks for one western mark.

Youth, 19, Held In Robbery

GALION — A 19-year-old Galion youth was held in Crawford county jail at Bucyrus today after a 65-year-old Galion farmer identified the youth as the hitchhiker who robbed him of his wallet and stole his car early Sunday.

Crawford County Sheriff Ralph E. Schrack identified the youth as James Phipps, 19, of Route 91, two miles west of Galion. Phipps was apprehended by Galion police and Sheriff Schreck last night at his home after identification of the hitchhiker given by Guy Lohr, who said he gave the youth a ride at 12:15 a. m. Sunday at Ontario.

Lohr was forced from his car by the youth just west of Galion, Lohr told police. He said the hitchhiker told him he would pay Lohr if he took him to a relative's farm near Galion. Just west of Galion, Lohr said, the hitchhiker put his hand in his coat pocket as if reaching for a gun. He then demanded that Lohr turn over his money and his car.

The motorist said he gave the youth his wallet, containing $4. The hitchhiker then pushed Lohr from the car and drove off. The car was recovered at 5 a. m. Sunday, undamaged, about a mile and a half from where the youth took the auto, Sheriff Schreck said.

Lohr said he was forced to walk a mile or more in search of a telephone. On finding no phones or autos at the farm houses, he then walked to State Route 61, where he flagged down a passing motorist and was driven to the Galion police department.

Sheriff Schreck said Phipps lives with his mother and stepfather, Earl Workley, on a farm two miles west of Galion.

Court Space Plea Backed

Commissioner Favors Moving Suggestion

"The judge has a legitimate gripe."

That's the way County Commissioner Fred W. Dill feels about Probate Judge Stuart H. Cramer's "invitation" to the commissioners to vacate their offices in the courthouse so he could have the space for a courtroom.

Dill, one of the two Democratic members of the board of commissioners, agreed with Judge Cramer that there wasn't enough room in the probate quarters for trials.

But, Dill said, the commissioners will have to find new quarters before they can surrender their rooms.

C. L. Shoup, only Republican member of the board, said he didn't want to comment on the judge's request until he discussed the matter with the other members of the board. Chairman Guy Stewart of the board was not available for comment.

Cramer said in a letter to commissioners Saturday he does not have sufficient room to hold court in his office and he has been asking commissioners for the past eight years to find him a suitable place.

He said a courtroom should be available at all times when a number of persons are involved in a case.

Dill said there might be room available for a court on the building's fourth floor or in the court of appeals but the board would have to decide the matter.

Fruehauf Agrees To Rehire 52

LORAIN —(AP)— The Fruehauf Trailer company at nearby Avon Lake has agreed to re-employ 52 workers fired as the result of a recent wildcat strike at the concern.

Sixteen will have all seniority rights restored, but the other 36 must take employment examinations and return under the status of new workers. Terms of the agreement were ratified yesterday by members of the AFL-United Automobile Workers.

Communists Get Setback

PARIS — (INS) — A heavy new defeat for French communists was recorded today in complete returns from yesterday's voting in cantonal (county) elections.

The government coalition decisively maintained its position as the strongest political power. This coalition, operating on a "middle of the road" policy, is known as the "third force."

In effect, the victory is a vote of confidence for the North Atlantic pact as well as the regime of Premier Henri Queuille. It is a severe setback for the communists who had conducted an intensive anti-western campaign.

Complete returns gave the government coalition and minor supporting parties 39 per cent of the 732 seats contested yesterday. There will be run-off elections for a total of 785 seats next Sunday but political observers do not anticipate any major change in the trend.

DE GAULLE SCORES

Twenty-five per cent of the seats decided yesterday went to rightwing followers of Gen. Charles De Gaulle while the communists received 23 per cent. Other parties won out in 13 per cent of the contests.

The Paris newspaper France-Soir estimated that the "third force" pulled 53.36 per cent of the popular vote.

The parties making up the coalition are the socialist, popular Republican, radical socialist and other moderate groups.

This estimate includes supporters of the government not actually in the "third force."

The De Gaullists emerge from the elections still the largest single party in France but the government victory showed a decline in strength by both the De Gaullists and communists.

On the basis of incomplete returns, the communists had received about 23 per cent of the popular vote compared with 35 per cent in similar elections in 1947.

De Gaullists, on the same count, got 28 per cent of the overall balloting compared with 40 per cent in 1947.

'Copter Used For Rescue

CALDERWOOD, Tenn, — (UP) — Rescurers today began bringing out four injured survivors of a plane crash who had suffered through three days of cold and pain on a mountainside.

A helicopter succeeded in landing on a small patch of land cleared by a rescue party, and shortly before 10 a. m. (EST) returned here with James Hardy, 23, pilot of the wrecked plane.

It began the flight back to the rugged slopes of Hangover mountain a few minutes later. Hardy had time only to say that "I feel great" before he was rushed by ambulance to a hospital in nearby Maryville, Tenn. He had a broken leg.

Dr. Robert H. Haralson, jr., of Maryville, reached the injured crash victims last night by the rope ladder route. He reported by radio that all four were injured and two were stretcher cases. All were from Detroit.

Flames Gut O'Neil Store

COSHOCTON — (AP) — Flames gutted the two-story M. O'Neil department store early yesterday, causing damage estimated at $710,000.

The fire broke out shortly before midnight. Firemen fought for three hours to keep the flames from spreading to an adjoining apartment building and an Atlantic and Pacific grocery store.

Carl Bowen, manager of the department store, said that the building would run to $360,000. He estimated the loss of merchandise at $350,000.

Hard Coal Area Hit

Miners' Families Shiver During Strike

(Compiled From Wire Services)

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. — Hard coal miners' families shivered or paid a bonus price for coal today as the "memorial holiday" of 400,000 United Mine workers went into its second week today.

There's plenty of coal in the diggings, but it isn't finding its way into the homes of thousands of families in the Wyoming valley area, center of the world's principal anthracite mines.

Ironically, while the rest of the nation's householders don't seem too much affected by the mine shutdown, residents here are running out of coal for heating their homes. What they obtain is generally rationed—or at higher prices.

John L. Lewis' order caught even the hard coal miners and their families off base. Ordinarily, the region knows in advance when its 76,000 miners will be idled, and everyone stocks up.

The weather had been unusually mild, so most families allowed their coal supply to dwindle. Thrifty housewives held off orders hoping prices would go down in the spring. And miners themselves, feeling the pinch of working only three days a week, ordered only their barest needs.

Then the weather became colder last week. Temperatures dropped to as low as five degrees in many localities over the weekend. Public schools and hospitals reported just enough supplies to see them through the mine shutdown.

Although railroads announced completion of the furloughing of some 70,000 employes, steel mills went zooming toward production records.

Only the Sharon Steel corporation in Farrell, Pa., announced that it was forced to lay off about 300 workers due to a lack of coke.

Near-Tragedy On the Stage When Actor Loses Head, Chokes Star

JUNIUS BOOTH (Edwin's father) became so wrapped up in a role he almost committed murder: While playing "Othello" he took the part so seriously that the actress playing Desdemona was almost throttled. She was rescued from suffocation in the murder episode by the other actors, who rushed on the stage to save her.

By the way, that incident is practically the plot of a recent film, "A Double Life."

George M. Cohan never requested interviewers to keep anything off the record. He wisely noted: "If there is anything a reporter can't print—I shouldn't be saying it!"

The mose accurate size-up of Cohan's genius was mady by colleague Wm. Collier. To wit: "He's not the best actor or author or composer or dancer or playwright. But he can dance better than any author, write better than any manager, and manage better than any other playwright.

"That makes him a very great man."

The Barrymore clan's tradition of sending a red apple to a member of the family on opening night was started by John Drew—John Barrymore's uncle. When Drew was a young student, his schoolmaster rewarded bright pupils with gifts of red apples.

After Mrs. Otis Skinner's death, Alec Woollcott sent a touching note that the famed thespian always prized: "Dear Otis: You lucky bum. You had forty blissful years together, you and that enchanting woman. How I envy you!"

When the lights were dimmed and the curtain was about to rise, producer Arthur Hopkins whispered to John Barrymore, who was seated nearby: "This is the most impressive moment in the theatre."

John whispered back: "Shall we go now?"

An old actor advised Sarah Siddons against a stage career. "No matter how successful you are," he warned her, "some day you will be forgotten."

Miss Siddons countered: "But if I am successful—I will always have something worthwhile to remember."

David Warfield turned down Hlolywood offers by saying: "I'd rather be an actor than a photograph. The audience is my confederate. It laughs with me and cries with me. I will not go on the screen because I can't take my audience with me."

Beauty Expert Tells Writer Just What's Wrong With American 'Gals'

AMERICAN women would be more charming if they quit acting like men in some ways—and more like men in other ways.

This gratifying discovery isn't my own — although, naturally, I've suspected it for some time. It comes from a beauty expert — Helen Fraser, director of the Barbizon School of Fashion Modeling.

Each week Miss Fraser casts a critical eye on the charms of some 200 hopeful would-be fashion models, of whom perhaps 20 to 25 make the grade.

This pleasant task has led her to the conclusion that too many girls today have developed manly mannerisms, which is awful, instead of a manly inner character, which would be fine, indeed.

"Too much athletics," said Miss Fraser, "has overdeveloped the leg muscles of girls, and they walk like boys. They—how shall I say it? — they positively swagger.

"They throw their hands about in gestures like boys. And they even move their lips like boys when they talk. Something like this." Miss Fraser, a delicate brunette, then gave a restrained imitation of Jimmy Durante.

Another of her pet peeves is the way many girls let cigarets dangle from their mouths while pawing through their handbags for a lighter.

"I'm afraid we have you men to blame for the fact girls smoke in a masculine say," she said. There was a pause while Miss Fraser put a cigaret between her pretty lips and held it there in a graceful feminine manner until a man in the room rushed over and held up a match.

"I hate to say this about men," she went on, "because I love men.

"I wish women would pick up more of men's virtues—such as tolerance, their lack of pettiness and their friendly attitude. I don't think men are as much on the defensive as women. Women lack self-assurance."

Going in more detail into the beauty faults of the younger generation, Miss Fraser said the habit of carrying shoulder bags and wearing loafers and ballet slippers was giving many girls thick ankles and a lop-sided figure.

"It is seldom that you run into girls with good posture," she said glumly. "Too many swaybacks. And politeness?—There isn't too much of that. The more I see of young girls the more reactionary and victorian I get.

"The job is to feminize them again—make them young ladies instead of hoydens."

Then she itemized some common beauty errors by occupational groups:

Stenographers — "You have often a serious problem of hip spread here."

Housewives — "That gone-to-seed look."

Waitresses — "They develop tremendous muscles in the arms and legs. And often they eat too much."

Salesgirls — "They do very well, because they are generally fashion and makeup conscious."

Factory workers — "Muscles and hip spread."

Her researches have led her to conclude that the American female figure is becoming taller and wider at the beam.

"We are getting calls now for fashion models with 38-inch hips," she said. "The limit used to be 36 inches."

But she said that the most common figure defect in women is that "They are too small in the bosom compared to the width of the hips—too much like a salt shaker or a pyramid."

Miss Fraser's own measurements, reading from up to down, are 34, 23, and 34. The middle figure is for her waist.

"I'm too small," she said. But her voice wasn't at all unhappy.

Outbreak Of Crime Hits City

Burglaries, Stabbing Keep Police Busy

Police and the sheriff's department spent a busy week end, investigating two burglary attempts, a stabbing and three thefts.

An attempt to crack the safe of the McKinley Roofing company, Park avenue east road, was reported to Sheriff E. P. Long today.

Company spokesmen said the handle and the combination dial were priced off the safe, but nothing was missing since the thieves were unable to open the safe door.

Spokesmen estimated the time of the attempt at between 2 p. m. Saturday and 7 a. m. today.

An attempted breaking and entering of the Saltzgaber distributing company, 32 South Adams street, was discovered at 2:55 a. m. today when police on routine patrol saw a man run from the building. Police said pry marks were found on the company's door but entrance had not been gained.

STABBED IN HAND

Julius Graff, 104 Pleasant avenue, was stabbed on his right hand early Sunday by an assailant who demanded his money as he left the DAV clubrooms on North Walnut street, Graff said.

Graff told police a man in a black hat and topcoat backed him against the building, threatening him with a knife and demanding his money. When Graff told him he didn't have any money, the assailant then struck at him with the knife, slashing his right hand between the thumb and index finger. The assailant ran, Graff told police.

Police said the incident was reported at 12:25 a. m. Sunday. Graff was taken to General hospital where he was treated and released.

Meanwhile, a purse snatcher, bearing a similar description, was reported to have taken the purse of Mrs. Clarence Marlet, 79 North Willis avenue, at 2:45 a. m. Sunday.

Mrs. Marlet told police she was walking west on East Fourth street with her husband when a tall man snatched her purse. She said the purse contained several dollars and keys.

A set of hubcaps and a suitcase were reported stolen over the week end, police said today.

4 HUBCAPS TAKEN

C. E. Evans, 1144 Lexington avenue, told police he parked his car on East Fourth street near Ashland road at 8:15 p. m. Saturday and that all hubcaps from the car were missing when he returned at 8:45 p. m. Evans valued the stolen property at $20

A suitcase valued at $40 was reported stolen from the Greyhound bus station at 10:40 p. m. Saturday. Tom Carey of Upper Sandusky told police he put the suitcase on the floor near the ticket window and went in the lunch room. Carey said he returned about five minutes later to find the suitcase gone.

Police halted investigation of the reported theft of $219 in clothing and jewelry from the home of Dr. Lizabeth Mainzer, 492 Overlook road, yesterday when Dr. Mainzer reported she had discovered the missing articles in her home. She had reported the theft Saturday morning.

NEW GARAGE COMPLETES PROGRAM—Mansfield Rapid Transit garage on East Fourth street, which will be completed this week, is the last unit in the transportation company's $300,000 expansion and improvement program. The building provides sufficient space so any bus can be parked or taken out at any time without moving other buses. The old garage was so small that only the bus which was at the head of the line could be moved, and consequently the buses had to be put in the garage in a specific order.

Building Nearly Done

Bus Firm Using New Garage

The new $100,000 Mansfield Rapid Transit garage on East Fourth street is receiving the finishing touches.

The bus firm is using the garage, but officials explained several interior installations have not been completed.

Part of a $300,000 expansion and modernization program, the garage replaces a building which was destroyed by fire Nov. 23, 1947.

The new building is 32 feet wider than the old garage, making an entire floor space of 82 by 210 feet. It offers many additional facilities for the proper handling of buses, company spokesman said.

Included in the firm's expansion program are 14 new buses purchased since the fire, which destroyed 17 buses belonging to the company.

The company now has 32 coaches available. Twenty is the largest number ever needed to cover the city's bus routes.

Mrs. Hout Dies At 74

Mrs. Estella Boals Hout, 74, wife of L. F. Hout, died at 8:30 a.m. today at her home on Crider road, following a stroke.

Mrs. Hout was born in Mifflin township June 16, 1874, the daughter of David and Mary Huston Boals. She was a lifelong member of the Crider Memorial church and continued her membership in the First Evangelical UB church when the Crider church was combined with the Mansfield congregation. She had sung in the choir and taught a Sunday school class.

Surviving, besides her husband, are one daughter, Mrs. Gerald Dudley of Mifflin township and several nieces and nephews.

Backs Into Police Cruiser, Fined $75

Charles E. Ticknor, 612 Arlington avenue, found this morning that it's an expensive mistake to back into a police cruiser.

Municipal Judge H. H. Schettler fined Ticknor $75 and costs in municipal court after the motorist pleaded guilty to operating a car while under the influence of alcohol. Ticknor's driving license was suspended for six months.

Ticknor was one of two Mansfielders arrested for traffic violations in 12 week-end traffic mishaps in the city.

According to police, Ticknor backed his car into the police cruiser, occupied by Lt. Howard E. Dickson and Patrolman Don L. Freehafer on First avenue. Time of the accident was 2:30 a. m. Sunday. Police said the right rear fender of the cruiser was damaged.

Police said Ticknor's car was parked along the curb on First avenue while officers made a call. At the time of the accident, Freehafer was in the cruiser and Lt. Dickson was standing beside it, talking to a pedestrian.

Also arrested was Joseph Langley, 36, of 11 East Fifth street, charged with disregarding a traffic signal after his car collided with one driven by Eugene Zerkle, 24, of Galion, at Mulberry and West Sixth streets.

Police said the accident occurred at 3:50 p. m. Sunday as Langley, traveling west on West Sixth, "crashed" the traffic light and collided with the Zerkle car at the intersection.

Dr. Adam Gets Post In East

Announcement was made today of the appointment of Dr. Alan B. Adam, Mansfield psychiatrist, as senior psychiatrist on the medical staff of the Institute of Living at Hartford, Conn.

Dr. Adam has left for his new post and will be joined at the close of school in June by Mrs. Adam and their two children. They have been making their home, since coming to Mansfield, on Cook road.

Dr. Adam came to Mansfield from Crile Veterans Administration hospital at Cleveland where he was chief of the neuropsychiatry service. Prior to the Cleveland job, Dr. Adam served as chief of neuropsychiatry at the Army Air Force regional hospital at Maxwell field, Ala. He is a diplomate of the American Board of Neurology and Psychiatry.

Bromfield Raps Waste

Engineers, Farmers, and foresters must lead the way in educating the public to proper management of Ohio's natural resources, Author-Farmer Louis Bromfield said Saturday night in Columbus.

Bromfield spoke before the Ohio Society of Professional Engineers.

Vast amounts of money and less backed by intelligently managed natural resources, bank notes are worthless unhe said.

"Ohio once again can be a paradise as it was when the white man first arrived in America," Bromfield declared, "if the state's water, forests and agricultural lands are intelligently managed."

Not to do this, he said, can result in America committing economic suicide.

Death Takes Miss Cate, 86

Miss Nora Cate, 86, died Sunday afternoon at her home on East Lawn avenue after only a few days' illness.

Miss Cate had been an invalid for the past 35 years, following a fall. She was born May 27, 1863 in Richland county near Darlington and had spent her entire life in and near Mansfield.

Her only survivors are nieces and nephews.

The body is at the Wappner funeral home where services will be held at 3 p.m. Tuesday in charge of Rev. Olan W. Aughbaugh, associate pastor of the First Lutheran church. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery.

Galion Residents Injured

Cars Collide In Mansfield

Two Galion residents were injured in Sunday morning accidents, one in Mansfield and the other in Galion, while 10 persons lost their lives in traffic accidents in the state over the week end.

Injured in the Mansfield area were:

Mrs. Everett McDowell, 48, of 521 East Atwood street, Galion, injured in a collision on North Adams street, in Mansfield at 1:25 a. m. Sunday. Henry Price, 41, of 835 East Walnut street, Galion, injured at 5 a. m. Sunday in a truck-car collision in Galion.

Both Mrs. McDowell and Price were confined to Galion City hospital today. Police here said Mrs. McDowell suffered a fractured left rib and possible internal injuries when the car in which she was riding, driven by her husband, was sideswiped by a car near the intersection of Adams and East First streets. Police said the other car was driven by Dee B. Alexander, 51, of 259 North Diamond street.

Mrs. McDowell was given emergency treatment at General hospital and removed to the Galion hospital.

Galion police said Price's car rammed a truck on Harding Way East. Charged with reckless operation, Price posted $25 bond for his appearance in mayor's court after his release from the hospital.

STRUCK BY CAR

Mansfield Man Buys Property

Property appraised at $4,500 sold at a sheriff's sale Saturday for $3,000. The 75 acres in Mifflin township went to Albert Poth, 542 Cline avenue, the only bidder. Sheriff E. P. Long said about 50 persons attended the sale.

The property is on Reed road, one-half mile north of U. S. Route 30. It was ordered sold in common pleas court in a partition action brought by Jesse A. Sleek, of Lexington, R. D. 2, against Courtney T. Hout, Mansfield, R. D. 4, and 30 others.

It was ruled by the court that Sleek's property could not be set off without injuring its value. Proceeds of the sale will be divided among the owners.

Trotters Stage Burlesque

GALION — The Harlem Globe Trotters proved beyond a doubt here yesterday that they are the greatest "show" in basketball

Although the official score got lost somewhere in the shuffle, the Trotters toyed with the Galion Stars while turning alternating streaks of impressive and hilarious basketball.

The road team led 60-40 in the middle of the third quarter when they began to jazz it up a bit by using two balls shooting at the wrong basket, and running plays from the T formation

Yarosz Battles Hunter In Arena's Top Bout

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Tommy Yarosz, Monava, Pa., light heavyweight title aspirant, will meet Chuck Hunter of Cleveland in the 10-round arena feature bout tonight.

In another Ohio fight tonight Jimmy Sanders, Warren welterweight will meet Jimmy Cox of Chicago in a 10-rounder in Toledo.

Marshman's Winner In 3 Divisions

Evelyn Marshman was crowned as champion in three divisions yesterday as completion of firing in individual division of the Women's city bowling tournament failed to overtake her scores of last week.

Another dozen teams are to compete for honors next Saturday night but as far as singles, doubles, and all-events are concerned the books were cleared yesterday on the Colony lanes.

SAME TOP THREE

The top three remained static in singles as Evelyn's 588 a 578 by Marceda Heiser and 573 by Hon Wehinger stood unchallenged. Fourth, fifth and sixth spots were newcomers as Dot McDevitt rolled 570, Gerry Herrod tossed 559 and Liz Hoff 558.

Mrs. Marshman, rolling with the lowest handicap of the tournament—one pin per game—yielded honors in only one division Hon Wehinger beat her with a 1616 all-eevnts score but only by handicap. Evelyn had 1556 for the best all-events net score.

BEST BY 19

In doubles she teamed with Sis DeWeese for a 1051 pin count which bettered by 19 pins the 1032 posted by two other combinations. Jean Douville and Naomi Shaffer had made their mark a week ago while Nell Forman and Mary Shiller tossed their 1032 yesterday.

Cleveland Barons Just Make Playoff In Hockey League

(By International News Service)

Whew! The Cleveland Barons finally made it — and just by the skin of their teeth.

The sixth city pucksters gained a position in the playoffs last night by trouncing St. Louis, 7-3, and the victory couldn't have come at a more appropriate time, since it was the last game of the season.

TAKE OVER THIRD

As a result of the win, the Barons took over third place in the western division of the American Hockey league. Although the Barons finished in with Pittsburgh at 88 points, they had two more victories than the smoky city icers, who were edged, 2-1, last night by Indianapolis.

The Cleveland Pucksters will open their third-place playoff series, a best of three sets at Springfield Tuesday night. The second game is slated for Cleveland Thursday and a third, if necessary, will be played in Cleveland Saturday.

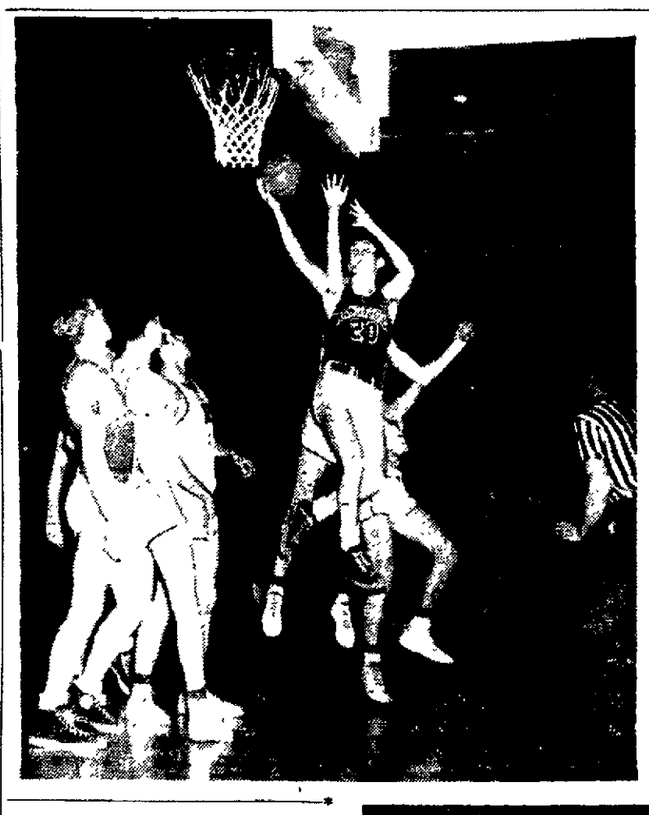
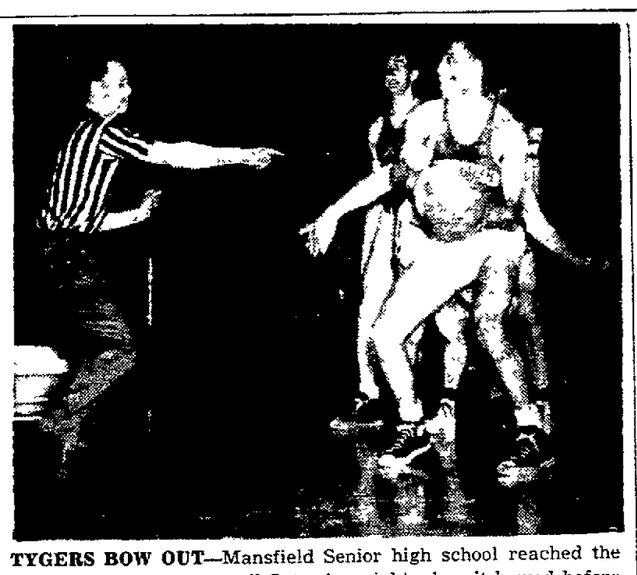
OKLAHOMA CITY, — (AP) — Oakland Bittners whipped Phillips Oilers, 55-51, Saturday to win the national AAU championship.





TYGERS BOW OUT—Mansfield Senior high school reached the end of its tournament trail Saturday night when it bowed before a rangy Toledo Central Catholic quintet, 54 to 53, in the regional finals in the Toledo university fieldhouse. Mansfield had copped six straight tournament games. At left, slender Jimmy Anderson, Tyger forward, goes high to cage a bunny shot in the second quarter. Toledo had moved ahead 27-16 when Anderson connected for the two points. Above, Referee Rex Burke points an accusing finger at a Toledo player in the action-packed third quarter. Ed Demyan had just taken the ball off the backboard in a rebound when Ray Donoher crashed down on his back. (News-Journal photos by Jim Switzer

Mansfielders Whip NCO Loop Rivals

Mansfield bowlers shone in inter-city competition yesterday as they won five of six games in the North Central Ohio traveling league. Liederkranz took three straight from Willard Pioneer Rubber at Colony and Zahn's Construction won two from Fostoria Smokey's Inn at Richland Recreation.

Top individual score was tossed by Frank Burton of Leiderkranz — a 247-166-214—627. Orlie Grable posted 599 and Harold Selby 597 with the same team to help run the total to 2833.

Out at Richland two Fostorla men took the honors with scores of 592 and 591 but the Mansfield keglers were more consistent. All were in the 500 zone with Farrell Hipp the top man with 549. Win Cleckner had 548, Hal LeMunyon 543, Lou Zahn 528, and Nich Weber 506. Zahn's won the first and third games but a 1035 beat it in the second.

★

Two honor roll scores were posted in the Sons of Herman league. Emmett McIntire got the best, a 623, and Lou Herf the other, 608. Both made use of one fine single game to put them over. McIntire had 165-257-201 and Herf posted 180-240-188.

Jake Gaubatz kicked over 595 sticks while fourth spot went to Henry Kathrein with 556 Jake Streitmater had 550, and J. Hetler jr., and John Bautz both had 544.

Florine Waldman led the Daughters of Herman with 155-181-144—480. Ann Reiter had 443, Helen Wilhelm, 438, Bertha Young, 407, and Mary McIntire, 391.

★

V. Rocco paced Mansfield Tire Owl leaguers with 529. A. Callahan was close with 526, P. Lee had 517, E. Blackburn, 514, Joe Kuelling 507 and B. Conners 501.

Peggy Wins Last Round 72

AUGUSTA, GA — (AP) — Peggy Kirk saved her best golf for the last round and was rewarded with the women's titleholders trophy, her first major golfing honor.

The sturdy 27-year-old from Findlay, O., fired a four-under-par 33 on the front nine of her final round yesterday. She slipped to a one-over coming back but it was good for an 18-hole 72 and the crown of crowns in women's golfdom.

Peggy's four-round total was 299. That was two strokes better than her closest pursuers—defending champion Patty Berg of Minneapolis, Minn., and Dot Kirby of Atlanta

Frank Thomas Critically Ill

BIRMINGHAM, ALA. — (AP) — Frank Thomas, 50, the Alabama crimson tide football coach who piled up a record of 115 victories and six bowl games over a 15-season span, was reported critically ill today.

His physician, Dr. Joseph Hirsch, said Thomas suffered a heart attack Saturday night but reported Thomas' condition had taken a slight turn for the better last night.

Complete 'Semis' Today In Grade School Tourney

Two games each in the reserve and varsity Grade school basketball tournaments are scheduled for today, bringing the joust down to the finalists in each division.

Finals will be played tomorrow night at John Simpson.

Varsity games tonight pair Prospect and Roseland in the consolation bracket at 7 p. m. and Newman and Brinkerhoff in the championship division at 8. Bushnell has already won the other consolation finals berth and West Fifth will meet the Brinkerhoff-Newman winner for the title.

In the reserve tourney, Newman meets Woodland at 3:30 this afternoon in the consolation bracket and Roseland battles Simpson a half-hour later in the championship tilt. Bowman and West Fifth reserves meet the winners tomorrow night.

Favor Bivins In Garden

PITTSBURGH — (UP) — Jimmy Bivens of Cleveland, O., was an 8-to-5 favorite to defeat Pittsburgh's Rusty Payne in their 10-round bout at the Gardens tonight.

Both fighters were looking for a knockout victory to enhance their chances for a shot at the heavyweight title vacated by Joe Louis. Bivins, who has been chilled only three times in his ring career, is rated as the nation's sixth leading contender, while Payne, who packs an explosive right hook, is listed seventh.

Gromek Seeks Sixth Win for Cleveland

BURBANK, Cal.—(INS)—Steve Gromek took to the mound today in Burbank, Cal., as the Cleveland Indians sought victory No. 6 against the St. Louis Browns, the team they meet on opening day.

Gromek, the flinger who President Bill Veeck says will win more games than any other Tribe hurler, will be followed to the hill by Frank Papish, southpaw obtained from the Chicago White Sox.

Papish and Gromek went into today's contest hoping for better luck than Bob Feller and Bob Lemon had yesterday in Los Angeles when they gave up six hits and lost to the Chicago Cubs, 3-2, before 24,517 fans at Wrigley field in Los Angeles.

FELLER GIVES ONE

Feller hurled the first three frames of the contest and gave up one run on four hits and a walk, while Lemon limited the Cubs to two hits and no runs in six innings.

Roy Welmaker, the Negro southpaw who notched two victories in extra-inning games for the Tribesmen last week, gave up the winning tally in the tenth. A double and a single, coupled with two walks and a wild pitch enabled the Chicagoans to score the deciding tally in the last half of the tenth.

Two home runs accounted for the Indians only markers. Catcher Jim Hegan cracked one of the four basers in the third inning and Joe Gordon hit his first of the year in the seventh. But that was the extent of the Tribe's attack.

Three Cub pitchers, Bob Rush, Jess Dobernic and Doyle Lade, held the Clevelanders to five hits, the fewest for the Indians in any game this spring.

Mickey Vernon, first baseman obtained from Washington during the off-season, made his debut as an Indian yesterday and hit safely in his only time at bat. He replaced Herman Reich in the eighth.

HIT BY GROUNDER

Rookie Ray Boone suffered a fractured upper gum bone when hit by a ground ball during infield practice Saturday. After treatment by an oral surgeon, who said there is a possibility that the shortstop may lose his two front teeth, Boone was told not to return to uniform until Thursday.

The Indians "B" squad, meanwhile, led by Artie Wilson, knocked off the Portland club of the Pacific Coast league, 4-2, at nearby Riverside. Wilson clouted two doubles which accounted for the deciding runs in the game. Four Indian hurlers, Lyman Linde, Dick Rozek, Will Hafey and George Anderman, restricted the Beavers to six hits. Hafey received credit for the win.

SAN BERNARDINO, CALIF. — (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates were back at their home base today for a game with the New York Giants and manager Billy Meyer was disappointed at the showing of pitcher Bob Chesnes.

Chesnes, who went five innings as the Bucs defeated San Francisco 9-4, yesterday, didn't allow a run as he gave up three hits, but he walked five men and threw a wild pitch.

Good Subs . . .

BURBANK, CALIF. — (AP) — If manager Zack Taylor of the St. Louis Browns is worried over injuries to his regulars, he can find comfort in the progress of their replacements.

Andy Anderson, filling in for Bob Dillinger at third, banged out three hits and sparkled afield yesterday to help the Browns beat the Oakland Oaks, 10-4. Ken Wood, subbing for Paul Lehner in center field, drove in five runs with a home and a double.

To Make Debut . . .

LOS ANGELES, — (AP) — Lefty Johnny Schmitz, the Cubs' ace pitcher, was scheduled to make his season debut today against the White Sox as the two Chicago rivals opened their annual spring series.

★

Reds Show Power . . .

TAMPA, FLA. — (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds are quite regretful that spring training games don't count in the regular season standing.

The Reds, generally consigned to the national league coal hole in early predictions, have looked like anything but an eighth place club thus far as they have won six of eight grapefruit league games and their last four in a row.

The latest triumph was a 9 to 2 beating of the New York Yankees here yesterday in which Ray Mueller and Red Stallcup came through with home runs. Mueller's circuit clout came in the fourth and the bases were loaded at the time.

Johnny Vander Meer made his first start of the season against the Yanks and gave up one hit and one run in the four frames he worked.

★

Braves Fall Again . . .

LAKELAND, FLA. — (UP) — The Boston Braves, defending champions of the national league, invaded the Detroit Tigers' stronghold today, bent on polishing their lusterless grapefruit league record.

Boston, winners only twice in eight starts, dropped their sixth game yesterday by bowing to the St. Louis Cardinals, 6 to 2.

Ohio State Favored in Nationals

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Ohio State's mighty swim armada rates today as a slight favorite to recapture the national collegiate swimming crown and complete the second leg of its quest for tankdom's "grand slam."

Fresh from its conquest of the western conference crown, the Buckeyes leave tonight for Chapel Hill, N. C., where they will tangle with the nation's foremost squads March 24-25-26.

Skipper Mike Peppe is confident that his scarlet and gray paddlers can succeed Michigan's defending champions, but he readily admits that victory in the NCAA will be difficult. Last year Michigan halted Ohio State's three-year monopoly in the NCAA

Peppe is counting on Bill Smith and Bruce Harlan, a pair of Olympic champions to spearhead a Buckeye contingent which includes such standouts as Halo Hinse Bob Degroot, Ralph and Phil Knight, Bunny Nakama, Bob Bartels Bob Congelliere, Bill Rodenbach and Dick Webber

It'll be a dot-eat-dog struggle with Iowa, Yale, Michigan, Stanford and North Carolina as the teams to beat.

Peppe's peerless diving perfectionists loom as the scarlet and gray's top point-getters and the reason the Bucks are favored Hobie Billingsley, Jackie Calhoun and Johnny Simpson teamed with Harlan to monopolize the western conference springboard events, but they face a stiffer challenge at the national collegiates.

Ohio State then travels to Daytona Beach, Florida to defend their national AAU title March 31, and April 1 and 2 Last year the Bucks copped their third successive AAU indoor title. Should the Bucks complete the grand slam they will repeat a feat they accomplished in 1943, 1946 and 1947.

By FRITZ HOWELL, Ohio AP Sports Editor

COLUMBUS—There's more than a bare possibility that Ohio's high school basketball finals, next year, will be shifted from the historic fairgrounds coliseum here to Cincinnati's brand new arena.

H. W. Emswiler, commissioner of scholastic athletics, said today the transfer was being given heavy consideration due to the limited seating capacity (7000) of the coliseum. The Queen City unit will handle more than twice that number of fans.

The commissioner, harried by ticket requests from competing schools at yesterday's drawings for first round opponents, declared:

"We must do something to take care of the fans—that's the No. 1 consideration. The financial end is secondary, but it appears we could pay the arena at Cincinnati $1500 a day and still come out ahead. We are definitely looking into the possibility of shifting the finals down there. In fact, it looks like the only solution."

The tournament gets under way Thursday with class B New Lexington (25-1) and Delphos St. John (27-3) meeting at 2:30 p. m., and North Canton (22-6) and Lockland Wayne (30-1) clashing at 8 p. m.

Opening Class A game Friday send Niles (13-9) against Hamilton Public (23-1) at 2:30 p. m., and Toledo Central Catholic (25-3) against Akron St. Vincent (17-5) at 8 p. m. Class B finals are Saturday afternoon, and the "A" championship fray at night.

Game officials in Class B will be Hy Davis of Convoy and A. C. Grant of Loudonville, with Ed Heldman of Marietta as alternate, and in Class A the arbiters are Mac Shaffer of Columbus Grove and John Russ of Youngstown, with Hamilton county Sheriff Dan Tehan as alternate.

WILL TAKE MOVIES

Movies will be taken of all games by the state association, and the finished product sold at cost to the competing schools for television or other use.

Each school was awarded 1,475 tickets for its opening game, and the coaches said they'd have no trouble disposing of them. Emswiler said he expected sell-out crowds at all six games.

The Hamilton delegation, headed by Coach Warren Scholler, said it would use at least 5,000 tickets for its fans. That school had 2,500 for the regional finals at Cincinnati, but several thousands who desired tickets could'nt get into the Xavier field house.

Emswiler explained that each high school basketball head coach in the state (1165) received two tickets to the tourney games; that all managers of any kind of high school tournaments or meets receives one; that the eight teams defeated in regional finals were awarded 15 each, and that state legislators are permitted to buy tickets, too.

"Those are the ones we just have to take care of," the commissioner said. "I realize this tournament is more or less the property of the competing teams, but we just can't give them all the tickets they desire. Maybe we can take care of everybody if we move to Cincinnati."

Niles and Akron St. Vincent in Class A, and New Lexington and Lockland Wayne in Class B are making their first appearance in the big cage carnival. It's the seventh try for Hamilton Public, state Class A victor in 1937, and the second for Toledo Central, runner-up in 1942. North Canton was in the Class B race a year ago, and won the tourney in 1939, while Delphos St. John hasn't been here since 1924.

HALF ARE PAROCHIAL

No Catholic school has ever won the Class A laurels, but half the field this time is made up for parochial schools in Toledo Central and Akron St. Vincent which drew each other as first round foes.

Class B, for the first time, has an all-Negro school representative in Lockland Wayne. The Lockland crew holds the best offensive average and the best defensive record in its class, scoring at better than two points per minute to less than one for the foe. Its record of 30 wins and a lone loss, a three-pointer to Hamilton Public, as also Class B's best.

Eddie Wentz, Akron St. Vincent's coach is having quite a year in his 25th season. His football team, which has no home gridiron, won eight straight, and Saturday night his cagers upset Lakewood, which had won 19 in a row, to give the Akron school its first state finals berth.

Art Heck 9th In Nationals

WILLARD — Art Heck of Willard finished 9th in a field of 152 in the annual 200-mile national championship motorcycle race for experts at Daytona Beach, Fla. Another Willard racer, Robert Danhoff, was one of 10 Ohio Entrants in the 100-mile amateur classic and vied with 124 others for top honors. Bob did not place.

In the experts race, only 46 of the 152 finished. Although the winner averaged 89.54 mph, Art finished only three minutes behind him. This is the third 200-mile race in which Art has participated and one in which he placed highest. During his first attempt, his machine blew up and in the second national race, he placed 21st.

Kentucky Wildcats Make Another Tournament Stab

NEW YORK—(AP)—Kentucky's try-again boys make another stab at basketball glory here tonight in the opening round of the NCAA play-offs.

Once figured almost a shoo-in for both the national invitation and NCAA titles the Kentuckians now will have to prove they can win under fire.

They've been beaten only twice in 31 games this season, but the two they lost were the big ones. St. Louis whipped the Wildcats by two points in the final of the Sugar Bowl holiday tournament and Loyola of Chicago trounced them, 62-47, in the quarterfinal round of the national invitation a week ago today.

ROUGH ROAD AHEAD

Almost nobody doubts that the Lexington Wildcats can get past the Villanova Wildcats (22-3) tonight, But the road ahead certainly doesn't look as smooth as it did a short week ago.

The immediate stumbling block seems to be the University of Illinois, Big Nine champion with a 19-3 record. The Illini are favored to brush aside Yale (22-6) in the first game of tonight's doubleheader.

The first round winners meet tomorrow night for the right to oppose Oklahoma A. and M. in the national finals at Seattle, Wash., Saturday. The second place team here also will travel west for a consolation engagement with Oregon State, which lost to A. and M. at Kansas City Saturday night, 55-30, in the west final.

Underdogs Yale and Villanova will feature the nation's two highest individual scorers among major colleges. Tony Lavelli, ace of the New Haven Blues, has averaged 22.7 points in 28 games. Paul Arizin of Villanova has hit at the rate of 21.7 for 25 games.

No Action Now On New Coach At Bucyrus Hi

BUCYRUS — City School Supt. D. C. Baer said today that no immediate action will be taken on appointment of a successor to Al Pesek, BHS head football and basketball coach, whose resignation becomes effective April 1. Pesek will take over the duties of head football and basketball coach at Hiram college on April 19.

Supt. Baer said that the vacancy probably would be discussed at the next meeting of the board of education on April 7. Meanwhile the school's athletic activities will be in charge of Dale Berner and Charles Tschanen, assistant coaches.

INDICATES OFFERS

Pesek indicated publicly several months ago that he had several outside offers under consideration unless more money was forthcoming at his present post.

Board members had unofficially indicated they would favor an increase but Pesek told Supt. Baer the Hiram offer was "too good to turn down." He also was advised by Paul Brown, Cleveland Browns' mentor, to take the Hiram post. Pesek served under Brown on the coaching staff at Great Lakes Training station during World War II.

Pesek is a native of Crestline and a graduate of Capital University in Columbus.

Middlecoff Leads By Three In Golf

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — (AP) — Cary Middlecoff had his sights set on $2,000 in today's final round of the 72-hole Jacksonville open golf tournament.

After yesterday's third round Middlecoff was still three strokes ahead of anybody else on the star-crammed field. He added a one-under-par 71 to his hot 66 and 68 earlier rounds for 205.

Otten Makes Tourney Stars

NEW YORK — (AP) — The four cinderella teams monopolized the National Invitiation Basketball tournament all-star teams selected today by the Associated Press.

San Francisco's dashing Dons, who edged Loyola of Chicago, 48-47, in the final minute Saturday night to win the title, were represented on the first five by Don Lofgran, the tournament's most valuable player.

Loyola placed two men on the first team—guard Gerry Nagel and center Jack Kerris. Bowling Green, which took third place by whipping Bradley, 82-77, supplied six-foot-six Mac Otten, while Bradley's Paul Unruh rounded out the first five.

The second team consisted of Joe McNamee and Frank Kuzara of San Francisco; Gene Melchiorre of Bradley; Charles Share of Bowling Green and Ben Bluitt of Loyola.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

HOW ABOUT A LOAN?

Maybe a private cash loan is just the thing for you. It's far better than worry and sacrifice. O. K., let's take $275 for example. Think what you can do with it right now. Plenty of things! You can get it quickly, and we mean today, on just your own signature and security. But how can you repay? Easy enough! Only $17 a month takes care of it, everything included. That's our new 21 month plan. Just give us a call or stop in our nearest office. There's a friendly welcome awaiting you and a helping hand with plenty of cash for any of your needs.

Demand for Steel Seen Levelling

Production Sets All-Time Record

CLEVELAND — (UP) — The downtrend in steel demand, which has dominated the market so far this year, currently shows signs of leveling off, the magazine Steel reported today.

Shipments are running at a record annual rate of 70,000,000 tons, which surpasses even the war-time rate, Steel said, and a new all-time high for production was set last week.

Steel added that "while still highly inventory-conscious, consumers appear to have made progress in reducing stocks where necessary and in various instances where they have withdrawn from the market they are either again releasing specifications or indicating more definitely when they will be in need of tonnage.

Contributing to this rosier picture is the fact that the warehouse trade currently reports a slight quickening in demand. Steel said.

Another encouraging factor is that the decline in castings business "seems to have been checked." Steel pointed out that casting prices are being adjusted to lower levels by the foundries and this appears to be paying off in improved sales volume.

Steel said that few trade observers anticipate any slowing down in production because of lack of demand over the coming quarter. Despite isolated cancellations, the mills are having no difficulty in keeping their schedules full. Backlogs of orders are still heavy, and although gray market activities are disappearing there is some renewed interest in conversion deals.

Steel's arithmetical price composites were unchanged this week for all items except steelmaking scrap. The finished steel composite was $97.77 per net ton, semi-finished steel $75.75 per net ton and steel making pig iron $46 22 per gross ton. Steelmaking scrap alone tumbled to $35.-50 for the week ending March 19 as compared with $36.33 for the preceding week.

Children Miss School, Glenmont Father Fined

MILLERSBURG — Captain Dix, 33, Glenmont, was fined $10 and costs in Justice William G. Closes court last week after he pleaded guilty to a charge of failing to send his children to school.

He has six children. Dix is in jail in default of payment. The sheriff's department arrested him.

Hoover Commission Urges United Medical Administration

Expected to Rouse Storm Of Protest

Asks Department Of Cabinet Rank

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A new cabinet-rank department of public welfare and education and a controversial merger of federal medical care under one agency were recommended today by the Hoover commission.

The proposed establishment of an independent "united medical administration" was expected to raise a storm of criticism.

The American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars already have condemned this plan, which would strip from the armed forces and the veterans administration their continent-wide network of hospital facilities.

But the Hoover group declared the present scattering of medical services among 40 federal offices makes for high cost, duplication and in the case of the military, "inadequate" care.

It noted that the government is responsible wholly or in part for treating 24,000,000 persons.

GROUP SPLITS

Actually, the commission itself split sharply on the medical plan. It mustered unqualified support from only half the members of the 12-man government reform group, including the chairman, former President Herbert Hoover.

Retiring Defense Secretary Forrestal abstained from voting because of his official position. Five others filed dissents but differed among themselves as to a proper solution.

The new department, the commission proposed, should embrace federal social security activities, the office of education and most other services now lodged in the federal security administration.

Further, it was urged, the department should take over the Bureau of Indian affairs, now under the interior department.

The United States Employment service, renamed the "Bureau of Employment Security," would go to the labor department where Mr. Truman wants it. The 80th Congress thwarted the President's plan to attach it to labor last year.

The public health service would be wrapped into the new medical administration, along with a section of the food and drug administration. Part of the latter agency would go to the agriculture department.

The bureau of employes' compensation and the employes' compensation appeals board—which together take care of the federal end of jobless pay—would be transferred to the labor department.

Since the government's Indian services are largely educational, the commission held that the proposed department should take charge of an expanded program to improve the economic status, health, education and self reliance of the government's 400,000 Indian wards.

The twin reports were the 15th and 16th in a series of 18 installments on government reorganization prepared by the bipartisan commission created by Congress a year and a half ago.

Golf Tournament Plans Are Shaping Up At Junior High

JANET NEAL and JANISE SMITH

Two humorous plays, "The Crook Catchers," and "Wilbur Faces Life," were presented by the ninth grade dramatics class in an assembly, last week under the direction of Miss Jeanne Worley.

Home room golf tournaments will be held in the near future. Signed up so far are: Don Beddard, Tom Bates, Ed Vild, Bill Brunn, Ernie Anderson, Jack Inscore, Darce Shasky, Oliver Henkel, Bill Johnston, Johnny Masterek, Don Ritter, Steve Henkel, Courtney Bournes, Mickey Rupp, Dave Hunter, Phil Ford, John McGinty, Bill Turner, Tommy Fitzgerald, Sherry Maxwell, Terry Gettlemen, Russell Keck, Ronnie Ackerman, and Bob Sundell.

Seventy-two boys have turned out for a physical-fitness course offered by Coach Jimmy Lymper. This course includes basketball and tumbling.

The movie, "Miracle on 34th Street," with Maureen O'Hara and Edmund Gwenn was shown as noon entertainment.

The glee clubs have been practising for the spring concert to be held at Arlin Field this May.

In the girls' basketball intramurals played this week, room 203 defeated room 205 for the ninth grade championship by the score of 14-11. Joanne Brunn gained the most points for 203 while Shirley Mott was high scorer for the losers.

The all-star basketball team will meet the Simpson all-stars next Wednesday.

Many ninth grade students are getting ready for scholarship tests to be given Friday, May 8. Each student may choose two subjects in which he excells, and compete with students from other schools for the State award.

Members of Mr. W. B. Huber's ninth grade general science classes are studying weather maps.

Evelyn Schermer, Pat Daugherty, Lanny Carr, Diana Hale, Tom Hathaway, and Shirley Mott have gained their thirty word per minute typing certificates while Mary Benson has obtained a forty word certificate.

Activation Date Nears For Reserves

Plans to Be Made By Unit Tonight

Members of the 2752nd Military Government Training group, Army Organized Reserve, will make final plans for formal activation Wednesday at a meeting at headquarters, 31 North Main street, at 7:30 p. m. today.

Dr. Harry Wain, city-county health commission will be the guest speaker. He will discuss public health as a function of military government

Maj. Alvin Preyer will talk on customs of the service.

Formal activation of the group will take place at 8 p. m. Wednesday at the American Legion post, Park avenue west.

Capt. R M. Flynn, unit instructor for the Organized Reserve in the Mansfield area, will present the official War Department orders activating the Military Government Training group which is commanded by Col Stuart M. Weaver.

Presentation of medals will follow the activation.

The ceremony will be attended by officers' and enlisted men's wives and friends. Two military films will be shown and refreshments will be served.

The training group is organized in Mansfield about three months ago. Its purpose, in time of war, is to take over occupied areas and govern them while other military groups are fighting in advanced areas.

The group is in a military class which receives pay for 12 drills a year and points toward retirement credit.

Enlistments are open for both officers and enlisted men in the group.

Present members of the group include Col Weaver, Col Robert J Nichols, Maj Harold N Wood, Maj. Preyer, Capt Herald L. Eyerly, Capt Harold T. Lutz, Capt. Herbert R Southworth, M-Sgt. Edward G. Robertson, Maj. John C. Swartz, Capt. John C. Leibfritz, First Lt. Earl F. Roth, and First Lt. Richard K. Elwell.

Plane Crashes, Pilot Escapes

An F-51 "Mustang" fighter plane was damaged at 2 50 p. m. yesterday when its pilot landed the craft at Municipal airport without the landing gear fully extended. Capt Albert B. Line, commanding officer of the 164th Fighter Squadron, Ohio Air National Guard, announced today.

The pilot, First Lt. Benjamin A Whitney, 925 Grant street, Ashland, was not injured He was compiling flying time in the National Guard aircraft prior to joining the local unit.

An investigation is being made to determine cause of the accident, Capt Line said.

BERLIN —(AP)— Three persons were killed and one injured in the crash of a British civilian plane flying the Berlin airlift, the British military government announced today.

Players to Rehearse

First rehearsal for the cast of "Laura," final production of the Mansfield Community Players' season, will be held at 7 30 p. m. today in the court of appeals room, third floor of the courthouse.

Judge H. H. Schettler, director of the play, announced the cast of the play which will include such veteran performers to Community Player audiences as Ruhland Isaly and Harold McCuen.

Isaly and McCuen, who will carry the leading male roles in the mystery drama, will play the detective Mark McPherson and Waldo Lydecker, respectively. Others in the cast will be Mrs. Marguerite McConnell in the character part of Mrs. Dorgan; Fred Pearson as the suave Shelby Carpenter; Miss Shirley Anson as the maid, Bessie Clary; Mrs. Marguerite McMullen as Laura Hunt, and Lloyd Lewis, who made his debut with the Players in "Suds In Your Eye" as the youth, Danny Dorgan.

"Laura" will be presented to patrons of the Players, April 26 and 27 in John Simpson auditorium. Rehearsal nights for the cast will be every Monday, Wednesday and Friday until April 18 when the play will be in rehearsal every night.

Pearson Reported Very Much Better

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Drew Pearson, columnist and radio commentator who is ill, was reported "very much better" today.

Pearson was stricken by chills and fever Saturday night. His script for his regular Sunday night broadcast was read by Robert S. Allen, Pearson's former collaborator.

Pastor Urges Citizens' League To 'Clean Up' Mansfield

Mansfield has nearly three liquor dispensing places to every church, Rev. Jack Shuler said at evangelistic services held yesterday afternoon in Appleseed auditorium

"Seventy-six per cent of the court expense in Mansfield is taken up in processing drunks," Rev. Shuler said.

"For every 500,000 people who die of cancer, 750,000 die of alcohol," he continued.

Mansfield should establish a Christian Citizens' League and work together for control and law enforcement and clean up the city, he said.

Approximately 900 Mansfielders heard Rev. Shuler quote from Sunday's issue of The News-Journal the statement of the FBI which put Mansfield's crime record among the highest in cities of comparable size in Ohio

"You talk about the revenue derived from liquor licenses and taxes. Yes, but that amount is pitifully small in comparison to jail, law enforcement and court costs caused by drinking, to say nothing of the deaths, broken homes, ruined lives and destruction of property," he said.

Young Beam Passes State Bar Exam

A Mansfield man was among 243 persons who passed the state bar examination held in Columbus Feb. 8 to 10, the State Supreme Court announced today.

He is William B Beam, 84 Brickman avenue. He was graduated from Harvard Law school in January and now is associated with his father, Lydon H. Beam, in the law firm of Beam and Beam, 52½ North Main street The high court said 200 others failed to pass the examination.

At last night's service the school auditorium was filled and people were standing in the aisles to hear Rev. Shuler discuss the sufferings of Christ on the cross. Forty-three answered the invitation to be Christians, according to Rev. Charles L. Shook, general chairman.

Saturday night Rev. Shuler spoke on the topic, "The Man Who got his Hair Cut in the Wrong Barber Shop", citing Sampson's life to show "whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap."

J. Stratton Shufelt, song leader, is expected here tomorrow to take over the direction of singing. Tonight is Sunday school night at the services. An award will be given to the school having the largest percentage of enrollment present.

Noon-day services at the First United Presbyterian church will be resumed tomorrow and continue through Friday.

Much Bickering Over Rent Controls

THERE is considerable pulling and hauling in Congress over details of proposals for extension of federal rent controls. There is debate over whether rents should be increased five or ten or fifteen per cent; whether controls should be extended for twelve months or for fifteen or eighteen; whether this kind of housing unit should be freed from control or that kind should be brought back into the realm of controls; whether rents should be reduced to the level of some date in 1947, and so on.

There is beginning to be a more widespread inclination to question whether any body of legislators or officials in Washington, however sincere and however well informed, can make a set of rules governing rents which could be applied with fairness and effectiveness to all parts of the country, and to all of the houses in a city, or along a certain street, or even in a single block of that street.

For instance, would it be fair either to require the owner of every rental property in the community to reduce his rents to the level of June 30, 1947, or to encourage the owner of every property to raise the rents fifteen per cent above that level?

In this community as in every one there are some houses and apartments for which the rent is nonsensically high, and there are others where the rent is ridiculously low.

How can a federal rent control law be made so flexible that local inequalities are dissolved, and still strong enough that it achieves the aim of preventing rent gouging everywhere? Some people are beginning to believe that there is no answer to that question, which may explain the move to soften the federal law with some kind of local or state option.

One Discreditable 'High Standing'

ONE "high standing" in which Mansfield can feel no pride is that shown by the Federal Bureau of Investigation annual report on crimes committed during 1948.

There is no satisfaction in learning that Mansfield stands near the head of the list of Ohio cities of comparable size in the matter of major and minor crimes committed last year.

While there are various contributing causes for such a condition, laxity in law enforcement is recognized as the starting point of much of the misbehavior that leads to more serious offenses—robbery, burglary, larceny, auto theft, assault . . . and, occasionally, murder.

Chief of Police Jesse J. Schwab has been persistent in arguing the need for additional patrolmen in the police department, and this is a point that merits thoughtful consideration as Mansfield's crime record is reviewed and attention given to the larger requirements of a city of near 50,000 population.

France Taking Forward Steps

ONE of the most hopeful reports which has come from France since the end of the war is that the currency seems at last to be gaining equilibrium. The government has successfully promoted a large loan to balance its budget. This may seem a strange thing to applaud, but previously the French government has been in the habit of balancing its budget by printing more money. As a further step to fight inflation, a limit has been placed on the amount of money banks can lend.

An indication that these measures are having effect is the fact that the price of gold is falling. Gold is eagerly sought by speculators and still commands prices out of proportion even to the black market exchange rate on American dollars, but the price is going down, meaning there is less speculation in money.

Lincoln Also Made Bad Guess

THE POLLSTERS, who have been avoiding election conversation ever since the people refused to vote in accordance with their predictions, can now brighten a little. At least they can say that they are in distinguished company.

According to the new life of John G. Nicolay, Lincoln's private secretary and biographer, written by his daughter, Lincoln could on occasion be far off the mark when it came to political prediction. Just before the Republican convention of 1864, when he was renominated, he wrote to John Hay, Nicolay's assistant, saying: "Vice-President Hamlin will in all probability be renominated. Andy Johnson seems to have no strength whatever." When the convention met, Hamlin was discarded, and the nominee for vice-president was this same Johnson whom Lincoln expected to have no chance whatever.

But Lincoln was ordinarily as shrewd a judge of political prospects as this country has ever seen.

Approach of spring is evidenced by frequency of advice on how to be assured of having a beautiful lawn all next summer.

Raymond Moley's Analysis

Plan To Develop Backward Countries

WE HAVE been hearing little these past two months about President Truman's nice little inaugural sermon about developing backward countries. He has had other legislative fish to fry, and some of them seem to have been badly burned in the process.

But the idea of developing the underdeveloped is still a lively idea among the economic bureaucrats in Washington. It was a thrilling bit of possible escape for them.

Two years ago, the Marshall Plan opened up for hundreds of busy bureaucrats opportunities to take trips to Europe and Asia. This new scheme thrills the imagination with world-wide junkets, unlimited adventures in spending—new billions to conquer.

In one of the departments where people are already planning "Operation Underdeveloped," a man was asked to name the prospective beneficiaries of this new beneficence. It was easier, he said, to name the developed and lump the rest.

North America, of course, is developed, and perhaps Australia and Japan. Europe belongs to "Operation Marshall." All the rest, therefore, is underdeveloped. Russia is underdeveloped, and for security reasons some hope it will stay that way. But the rest of the globe is waiting for the sunshine of the dollar. How thrilling!

The United Nations has been going into all this. Perhaps Mrs. Roosevelt helped Mr. Truman with his speech. At any rate, a sub-committee of the Economic and Social Council of the U. N. has turned out two volumes on the subject, and a two-weeks' session of this committee begins on March 21st.

In the materials already assembled by this U. N. committee many matters have been outlined—the training of experts abroad, the setting up of "teams" of experts in the U. S. international laboratories, provision of equipment and supplies, and all that sort of thing.

* * *

Who Does the Paying?

NOW the planners have got to the nub of the matter. What will be used for money? If we are to develop three large continents, a financial problem comes up. And the American taxpayer, already covered with ERP, International Bank and Fund, and UNRRA saddle sores is a bit jumpy now after March 15th.

The Truman idea, however, rested on the notion that private capital could be called upon for this missionary work. Someone, no doubt, told him that it was British and Dutch private capital that brought great civilizing influence to underdeveloped India, Indonesia and the like many years ago.

But no one, apparently, told him that such ventures were attended by heavy military protection and yielded profits which the governments permitted private capital to retain.

Profits are now under attack. Venture capital is practically outlawed. And the Democratic party is still screaming about the 1920 adventures of American capital abroad.

As a result, American private capital has a violent fear of seasickness. John Maynard Keynes estimated in 1923 that private English loans to public authorities abroad had been defaulted to the extent of 60 per cent. Moreover, due to exchange restrictions, American investments abroad are greatly handicapped in bringing profits home.

The planners are suggesting that to overcome private fears our government might offer guarantees to American investors and exact guarantees of free exchange from foreign governments.

But these latter guarantees are doubtful. They might be good as long as the governments in those countries remained the same and the dollars for transfer were available.

United States government guarantees of the principal and interest would, they say, be only a small budget burden at first. Of course that is true. But later on the guarantees would have to be met.

It might well be that in the end the American taxpayer might himself choose to migrate to some happy but underdeveloped land. And leave America to the U. N., to the bureacrats and to the happily protected but underdeveloped American Indians.

Farmer's Diary

Skunk Cabbage Appears

By CALVIN A. BYERS

DOWN in the swamp along Honey Creek, the most forward of all spring flowers is sticking up its swollen purplish spathe beside the partially submerged roots of a willow stump. Unlike its cousin the stately Egyptian calla lily of greenhouses, this livid lowly member of the Arum family seems to have only nuisance value.

Its odor is unmistakable—a raw, acrid, fetid smell as of mingled skunk, garlic and raw onion. Yet this forthright flower draws to itself boldly whatever insect passes by. A bee had searched for pollen and lost its footing. It lay dead in the moisture below the knobby spadix that had dusted it with pollen from the florets that clustered there like spines on a sea urchin.

The skunk cabbage lives where little flies abound. The first warm day brings them out, in swarms. They cluster in the raw-red interior of the plant, as they would upon raw meat of much the same coloring. Small fat spiders build webs across the doorways of the flower and watch for gnats.

It is still too soon for the flies and the spiders, but the trap is set and March snow does not stop it from unfolding.

Whatever insect loves foulness of odor and luridness of coloring — whatever human being seeks the bizarre and unusual in Nature—must stop to consider this extraordinary plant.

The bulging, swollen sheath will shrivel—the spongy inner knob will develop into a large cabbage-like crown two feet or more across. The plant is emerald green and beautiful when other spring flowers are only beginning to bloom. Lizards hide under the broad leaves. Yellow-throated ground birds sometimes ignore the stench and build their nests within the heart of the cabbage. It is a fairly safe place because cattle will not eat these acrid, stinking leaves and wild animals avoid them. It may be, too, that the insects furnish cheap and plentiful bird rations.

The wide leaves act as conductors of rain water, and often clusters of drowned insects float upon the little pools at the base of the plant. I have heard that the earliest shoots of skunk cabbage are tender and good to eat for human food. So far, I have never tried it.

One Man's Opinion

THE SENATE air committee has approved a radar screen for the country and Bill O'Dwyer hopes to get one for his city hall.

* * *

Workmen were busy there today taking out the old pay stations and putting in pigeon cotes. . . . Five cents for the first three miles and they won't talk to strangers.

* * *

That's much better than the other idea of equipping the phone booths with x-ray, fluoroscope, and an electric chair.

* * *

There's so much wire tapping in New York, one fellow dialed the zoo and an ape answered.

* * *

Anyway with this radar screen around the country we can see who is coming if not who is listening.

If should work fine. . . . Worked fine as far back as 1941 at Pearl Harbor. Only trouble was no one believed it.

Pact Is Modern Version of Old Idea

By J. C. OESTREICHER

A POLITICO-MILITARY concept of guaranteeing peace through balance of power is presented to the world in the form of the North Atlantic Defense Pact.

Seemingly a fresh idea because of the novelty of American peacetime participation, the formula actually is as old as recorded history.

And that same history shows that up to now the scheme has not worked, almost invariably because a backslider or an opportunist has emerged from what was supposed to have been a congregation of idealists.

Sponsors of the North Atlantic Pact, however, are convinced that this combine will operate successfully not only in preservation of peace but in concrete material benefits—meaning prosperity in commerce and industry for the participants.

This reasoning is based upon the following premises:

1—The democratic world has been awakened to the dangers of communist expansionism and particularly has been galvanized into action by Soviet atheistic assaults upon Christianity.

2—The charter of the United Nations, in its realistic framework, provided for such regional agreements, taking into account the likelihood that any truly universal instrument of peace is still to some extent impractical.

3—The United States is making heavy commitments which promise other signatories the military necessities with which to defend themselves. In other words, the pact automatically acquires "teeth" which have been denied to the United Nations itself.

4—This is the first time in history that a major regional agreement embracing one-third of the world has been drafted to work in consonance and harmony with a world organization.

5—Post-war experience has shown that economic recovery by any individual nation is impossible. A state of interdependence has been created in both the economic and military fields eliminating many previous concepts of self-sufficiency.

Judged in physical terms, the arrangement seems to give the western nations clear advantages.

Their total armed forces are considerably less than those of the Soviet bloc.

But the population involved in the Atlantic agreement is one-third again as large as those of the eastern nations and the resources, of course, are far greater.

Also there is the fact that the western alliance has at least the tacit approval of the United Nations while the minority Soviet blocs are heartily disliked by all except those who are in them.

There doubtless is hope in the minds of the pact's sponsors that the agreement will quickly prove its advantages—so quickly as a matter of fact that the Soviets might deem it wise to shed their own isolation, break down their barriers and achieve a fusion of forces for the good of all.

What Some Other People Are Saying

Secretary of State DEAN ACHESON: "If peace and security can be achieved in the North Atlantic area, we shall have gone a long way to assure peace and security in other areas as well."

* * *

Foreign Secretary ERNEST BEVIN: "The (North Atlantic) pact must be regarded as the complete expression to identity of views held among the Western nations."

* * *

Majority Leader SEN. SCOTT LUCAS (D) Ill.: "I think we will get along pretty well on the Truman program."

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Criticism By Dulles Angers Acheson

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON. — Secretary Acheson of State is boiling mad at John Foster Dulles for making speeches criticizing the North Atlantic Pact.

Acheson blew up when he read Dulles' speech in Cleveland before the Federal Council of Churches lambasting the state department for inviting Norway to join the Pact while under Russian pressure. He warned that this might provoke Russia into attacking.

When Acheson read this he remarked: "Dulles just can't get over the fact that Dewey lost the election and he isn't now Secretary of State."

Corporations Vs. Colleges.

FRANK W. ABRAMS, chairman of the far-flung Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, has spent 32 years in the refining business — highly successful, plodding years, not too exciting as measured by outside standards. Beginning as a junior engineer in Standard's Eagle refining plant, Abrams slowly worked his way up.

And having reached the very top of the world's largest oil corporation, he began to get ready to retire the other day, and began to realize how exciting life can be.

He got contaminated first of all by sitting down with some university students who were graduating from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. Then he met with teachers and students of other colleges, began to study their overcrowded condition and their financial needs.

As a result, Frank Abrams has become a quiet, consistent crusader for education, and in so doing has posed an important question to the nation: "Can corporations contribute to colleges and universities?"

Under current court rulings they can't. If they have a business interest in sending some of their men to a certain college, or if a college is working on a technical problem of value to a corporation, then a corporation can contribute.

But the courts have held, thus far, that a corporation cannot help a college simply for the purpose of aiding general education.

However, Abrams, pointing to the fact that the enrollment of American colleges has recently increased 60 per cent, against a general population increase of only 9 per cent, claims that corporations should be permitted to contribute to colleges.

"The peace, prosperity and security of this nation may depend as much on the way we treat our teachers and our religious leaders as it does on any other single influence," says Abrams. "We must offer them more than bread and butter and a chance to do good.

"The American people insist that the legal persons which we call corporations have responsibilities to society," he adds. "In our view, the American people are right."

At any rate, Abrams has decided to make a test case of his theory before the courts and see whether it is permissible for corporations to make contributions to general education — there being no strings attached to influence the university's way of teaching.

Whether Mr. Abrams is right or wrong on this point, we don't know. But certainly, in his general desire to help education, he is sincerely trying to do his part as a Servant of Brotherhood.

Trading With Communists.

GENERAL MACARTHUR has sent a long, secret report to the army department urging the United States government to do business with the Chinese communists.

He recommends that the U. S. military government in Japan be permitted to buy coal and coke from the North China mines now in the hands of Chinese Communists. . .MacArthur urges trade with the Communists because it will save the American government nearly $35 a ton on the price of coal for Japan. (It costs $50 a ton to ship the coal to Japan from the United States, while the Chinese will sell it for around $15 a ton.) Also MacArthur thinks U. S. trade would tend to keep Chinese communist leaders from getting too chummy with Moscow.

Washington Calling

Air Trip Over Florida

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WINTER PARK, Fla. — When you take a local plane from Miami to almost any other point in Forida, you are likely to see a lot of this state. It is the modern equivalent of the slow train through Arkansas—the milk run with a stop and a friendly exchange of mail and passengers wherever there seems to be a convenient airstrip.

In coming here from Key West, I changed planes once at Miami and then we stopped at West Palm Beach, Ft. Myers, St. Petersburg, Tampa and Lakeland before putting down at Orlando, which is the airport for all this rich mid-Florida region. We went up and down with such frequency that I may even have left out a stop or two.

It gives you a chance to see the extraordinary development of this state. North from Miami you fly over mile after mile of hotels, beach clubs, tourist courts, private homes, all shining and white in the sun.

Then on the west coast the pattern is repeated. Spreading out from the Tampa Bay area are more miles and miles of beach resorts, pleasure-domes magnificent and humble.

Most of these hotels and houses are occupied for less than half the year. That is a measure of the wealth of this country. This vast investment is dedicated to winter vacations or to the winter homes of those who retire to live out quiet lives under the sun.

Nor is it dedicated entirely to the decadent rich, as the Moscow radio would put it. The motel, the drive-in, the hamburger stand have made a Florida vacation available to income groups pretty far down the line.

* * *

Some Are Overlooked.

NOTHING quite like it ever has been seen before. On the shore of the Black Sea in Russia the czar and a few of the members of his court had winter pleasure palaces before 1917. Those palaces, or what is left of them, are now available to a very few of the top elite in the Soviet hierarchy when they are in need of a rest cure.

The existence of this fabulous winter playground doesn't prove, as sometimes has been said, that all's right with our world on a new acme of perfection.

It doen't help families doubled up in small apartments in the overcrowded cities of the North to know that a small percentage of the population can take a refresher in the South. It doesn't even solve the problem of Florida's own poverty and sub-standard living on leached-out soil.

But what it does prove—as though any proof were needed—is that this country is capable of doing anything it sets out to do. We have the means but we are incredibly behind hand in finding new ways to employ the nation's resources to the full.

While that was possible in an all-out shooting war, there are many who have begun to shake their heads gloomily and mutter about inventories piling up and lists of the unemployed growing.

The prophets of gloom find little to support their depression in Florida. It seems to be generally agreed that the winter season has been good, although almost everyone adds that money was not spent as freely as during the past four or five winters.

Those years of the postwar boom could not continue. They were part of an unnatural, unhealthy period when black-market spenders helped to boost inflation. We are still suffering from the evils coming out of that time.

Getting down off that dangerous peak of inflation without a fall is certainly not easy. But with a little common sense and good management by business and government, it should be possible to come to rest on a plateau of high income and high consumption that will mean the fullest use of the nation's power and resources.

Looking Back

Twenty Years Ago Today

Thursday, March 21, 1929.

Joseph L. Hott, 87, Civil war veteran, died at his home, 178 West Third street. He had been in business here and was later finance clerk in the Mansfield postoffice.

Project of erecting playhouse of their own was being considered by Community players.

County Engineer A. L. Allen spoke at Kiwanis club meeting on "Road Problems."

Dolores Lee Dudley, 15-year-old evangelist, was conducting services at Four-Fold Gospel hall, South Diamond street.

Northwestern district meeting of Ohio Maccabees was held here.

Reception was held at Baptist church for Rev. and Mrs. Hayes M. Braker, the new pastor and his wife.

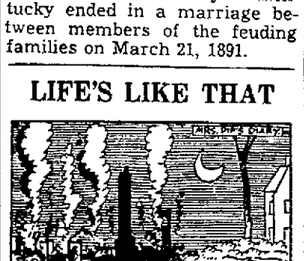
Daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Steel, 133 Wayne street.

Railroads were soliciting tourist travel to Alaska.

TODAY IN HISTORY

The notorious feud between the Hatfields and the McCoys in Kentucky ended in a marriage between members of the feuding families on March 21, 1891.

LIFE'S LIKE THAT



"If you'd bought the house I wanted over on Silvermine Avenue, this wouldn't have happened!!"

Dave Boone Says:

PRESIDENT TRUMAN went fishing and caught a 16-pound barracuda, one of the fiercest and most dangerous fish in Florida waters. It reminded him of a lot of boys back home in Congress.

* * *

Harry is one President who doesn't like fishing and makes no pretense about it. That's one thing in his favor. America owes him splenty of gratitude for not being photographed in a business suit and a derby hat in the middle of a trout stream.

* * *

It may be that he doesn't know the right fishing technique. He lashes the water, sets the hook too quickly and hauls in too fast. That "mandate" stuff is all bunk. It takes the right bait, plenty of patience and a little less yanking, whether he's trying to land a fish or congressional supporters.

As Cerf Tells It

A shoddy trick was played on a prospective benedict in Chicago recently. He passed out cold at his bachelor party. When he came to, his right arm was in a cast. He had broken it, they told him, in a battle royal. The poor victim spent his entire honeymoon with a perfectly good arm in a tight cast.

As Others See It

It Doesn't Work Out.

The post office loses money on every transaction. Yet, contrary to all tradition, as laid down by comedians, it doesn't show a profit on account of the large volume handled.—Detroit News.

Causes of Fatigue

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

A PERSON can be in good health and live a normal existence and yet be a victom of fatigue and overtiredness. In such cases, the fatigue may be the result of mental strain. However, in the majority of instances, the fatigue comes from other causes.

Normal fatigue or tiredness is caused by physical activity, such as running, carrying out household chores, or participation in sports. The symptoms of fatigue possibly develop because waste products formed through physical activity are not removed quickly enough from the body.

Lack of oxygen or insufficient food materials may be a contributing factor. Neuralgia may play a part.

Other Conditions.

Fatigue may develop from other conditions. Poor eyesight causing eyestrain will naturally fatigue the eye muscles. Insufficient light may also produce eyestrain or eye fatigue, which may be a contributing factor to a general feeling of tiredness.

Tight corsets or girdles and tight shoes and other clothing that interfere with proper circulation of the blood may lead to tiredness.

People who work in noisy surroundings frequently become fatigued. Another cause, often unrecognized, is improper diet. Not only may insufficient food lead to fatigue, but failure to obtain all of the necessary food substances, such as vitamins and minerals, may lead to a constantly tired feeling.

Basis For Fatigue.

It is obvious that failure to get enough sleep may frequently be the underlying basis for fatigue.

Tiredness is one of the symptoms in numerous sicknesses, such as damage of the nervous system, glandular disorders and many types of infections.

If you feel tired, the first thing to do is to have a careful study made by your doctor to determine just what has brought it about. Then and only then can the condition be quickly and permanently corrected.

WAFFLE SUPPER

The Mt Zion community band of Lucas was entertained at a waffle supper by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gumz, Lucas, recently.

Looking Through . . .

The Fashion Spy Glass

Behold the season of the Easter Bonnet! We've heard it said so many times that when a woman is feeling low nothing will pick her up as well as a new hat. This is especially true in the spring because we shed our heavy coats and the hats we bought last fall and we're in the market for something bright and pretty and new.

Many of you young women, who have gone hatless in recent years, except for very formal occasions, may change your minds this season—at least the whole millinery industry hopes you do and they've begun to concentrate their collective energy more and more on you

They've come up with the little hat for the short hair cut, in every shape and fabric, and we think you'll find one that will convince you to take to the habit of wearing hats again.

Straw, of course, is what you will be seeing the most of. But the new note on straw hats is the velvet trim in a contrasting color that makes your hat so much more feminine and pretty. Dacia, that kin color to cocoa and cinnamon of former years pearl gray and white are the nicest shades we've seen in the straws. Green is trying very hard to be a big color this year too but we think you'll probably want a more neutral color.

We confirmed a long held suspicion while we were taking stock of the hat market in town, by talking to a hat saleslady in one of the department stores She told us that many women won't take advice when they buy a hat In other words, and this was our suspicion, some women are buying hats the way they would buy a handbag or some costume jewelry, merely choosing it for its appearance and colors without calculating its appearance on themselves.

It is true that color and style are of utmost importance in a hat, but the whole stylish effect can be lost if a hat is unbecoming to you. Take the advice of your saleslady if she volunteers it. She is probably a better judge of how well you look in the hat because of her experience, than you are.

We have one other suggestion to make when you're out hat buying, and the milliners certainly won't thank us for this. You'll be seeing a great deal of navy blue felt and straw trimmed with neat white waffle pique.

B. and P. W. Club Presents Annual Concert

The Business and Professional Women's glee club annual concert, presented Sunday at John Simpson junior high school auditorium, was enthusiastically received by the audience of 200.

The assisting artists were members of the Mansfield Music Study club, under the direction of Mrs E. D. Gibson, which performed one part of the three part program Their performance was climaxed with the ever popular waltz from Tschaikowsky's "Sleeping Beauty".

The glee club sang ten selections and one encore. The familiar "Serenade" from Sigmund Romberg's "Student Prince" and the encore, "Old King Cole" were the selctions most enjoyed by the audience

Miss Myrtle Booth directed the glee club, assisted by Miss Estella Arras Mrs Minnie Marks Cahall, accompanied the club on the piano.

CARDS DIVERSION

Mrs. Roy Simmons 55 Chestnut street, entertained members of the Good Will club with a luncheon, Friday Five hundred was the diversion of the evening with the prize going to Mrs. Ira Zimmerman. Mrs. Robert McLaughlin, 43 Penn avenue, will be hostess on March 31 at her home.

Tulips planted last fall, will have larger blooms this May if they are watered well in the spring

PLAN MEETING

Members of the Unit One, Nu Phi Mu sorority, will meet April 5 at the home of Miss Maxine Guthrie, Hanley road The group held a theater party at the Ohio last week and later was served refreshments at the home of Miss Alveta Smith.

When sifted flour is called for in cake-making a good method is to sift the flour right into the measuring cup, filling the cup until it is more than full, then using the edge of a spatula to level the flour off

About Women

MISS JOAN EICHIN WED TO ROBERT B. LEHMAN

Formal Ceremony Solemnized Sunday Afternoon at First Presbyterian Church.

IN A LOVELY BRIDAL SATIN wedding gown, in a light shade of ivory, Miss Joan Ruth Eichin became the bride of Robert Boggs Lehman Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church. The gown was fashioned along simple lines with medium length torso, pointed at the waistline. The small sweetheart neckline was beaded in a floral design and the extremely full circular skirt fell gracefully into a very wide long train. Following the simple lines of the gown, Miss Eichin wore a short Mantilla of imported Chantilly lace.

She carried a sheath of Easter lilies with white carnations.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Eichin, 242 Davis road, and Mr. Lehman's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Mearl Lehman, 8 Stoodt avenue.

Rev. David N. Roller officiated for the formal single ring ceremony at which time the custom of open church was observed.

Miss Mabel Zehner played the program of nuptial music, preceding the service.

Vows were exchanged before a background of two beauty baskets filled with white lilies, tulips and hyacinths placed before arrangements of palms. Two seven branch candelabra illuminated the pretty scene.

Mr. Eichin gave his daughter in marriage.

Serving as miss Eichen's only attendant was Mrs. Charles Watson, a close friend. She was attired in a Chinese Turquoise taffeta gown, made with a drop-shoulder effect, banded in bias folds with detachable gauntlets. The same trim was used at the yoke and carried into the circular skirt at the low hipline. Matching the gown was the little bonnet in bias folds of taffeta, made into a poke bonnet and trimmed with purple and yellow flowers to match her round bouquet of purple hyacinths, which was surrounded by yellow roses.

Mrs. Eichen wore an ashes of roses street length dress with matching hat and black accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations. Mrs. Lehman chose an aqua street length dress with matching hat and brown accessories and wore a gardenia corsage.

Mervin Lehman, cousin of the bridegroom, was best man and ushers were Raymond Lehman, also a cousin, Edward Klein, Ted Stiffler and Charles Watson, all close friends of the bridegroom.

A reception for 150 guests was held later in the afternoon in the ballroom of the Mansfield-Leland hotel. Palms and baskets of white flowers decorated the long room. The serving table was centered with a five tiered wedding cake, decorated with a white dove holding a wedding ring. Surrounding the cake were white sweetpeas and ivy.

Miss Joan Kullman and Mrs. Paul Cropper jr., close friends of the bride, presided at the reception.

For her wedding trip to Florida the bride wore a purple suit with lavendar hat and black accessories. After April 15 the couple will reside at 74 West Raleigh avenue.

The bride and groom were graduated from Mansfield Senior high school. Mrs. Lehman attended Ohio State University and Mr. Lehman attended the University of Cincinnati. She is employed in the accounting department of the Ohio Brass company and he is in business with his father in the Lehman's Meat Market.

Guests were in attendance from Evansville, Ind., Cleveland, Marion and Akron.

SISTER STYLES Big and little sister go partying, wearing the newest thing in small-fry party frocks—identical dresses of silky gray broadcloth, with ruffle-edged pinafore fronts of imported Swiss eyelet embroidery.

Navy Mothers Meet, Plan Rummage Sale

The Navy Mothers met at the YMCA clubrooms, last week with Mrs. Edna Eicher, conducting the meeting. Members reported on their visit with the Ashland Navy Mothers club.

Plans were completed for the rummage sale to be held April 23 to 262 North Mulberry street. Luncheon was served with St. Patrick's Day appointments. Mrs. Eicher and Mrs. Glenn Pore were the hostesses. The club prize was awarded to Mrs. Ernest Phillips. The next meeting will be held April 7 at the YMCA clubrooms.

Washington C. De Pauw was a pioneer glass manufacturer. The University at Greencastle, Ind., is named for him.

Couple Tells Of Wedding In Kentucky

The Rev. Herbert Eddy officiated for the double ring wedding ceremony of Miss Betty Jeanne Flockencier and Russell E. Carr February 26 at 11:30 a. m. in Covington, Kentucky.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Mary E. Flockencier and the late Cleo E. Flockencier, 405 West Fourth street, and Mr. Carr is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Carr, 205 Parkway, Akron, Ohio.

Miss Flockencier chose a beige suit with forest green accessories for her wedding. A yellow rose corsage completed her ensemble.

The couple is temporarily residing at 405 West Fourth street.

Mrs. Carr is a graduate of Mansfield Senior high school and Valparaiso University. At the time of her marriage she was employed in the display department of the Sears, Roebuck and company. Mr. Carr, a graduate of Akron West high school, the University of Akron and the University of Pittsburgh, is the advertising manager for the M. O'Neil company stores in northern Ohio.

Do You Really Want to Take Off That Ugly Fat?

Recently there have been a number of new reducing preparations on the market, some of them based on the diet and vitamin "plan." It is obvious that vitamins will not reduce the body weight, so one must depend on diet to reduce. But it is also obvious that one cannot go on a strenuous diet over a protracted period, and any weight lost will be restored if the former eating habits are gone back to.

So what to do? Well, here is a tip to you "overweight gals" who want to fight "the Battle of the Bulges" in a different way. Ask any well stocked Ohio druggist for four ounces of Rennel. Mix with 12 ounces of grapefruit juice and take two tablespoonfuls twice a day.

This preparation contains nothing harmful and the makers agree to refund your money on the very first bottle if it does not show you the way to lose ugly fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves.

Rennel is low in cost and is not based on the diet and vitamin "plan." You need never know a hungry moment while reducing with Rennel. —Adv.

Miss Glenna Ryan Changes Name to Mrs. Smith

THE GRACE EPISCOPAL church was the scene, Sunday, of the wedding ceremony of Miss Glenna Ryan, daughter of Mrs. Gertrude Ryan, 472 Hammond avenue to Joseph Roscoe Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Smith, 487 South Main street.

The Rev. Samuel U. J. Peard performed the double ring ceremony when the custom of open church was observed. Mrs. Dean Eckert presided at the organ and the bridegrooms sister, Miss Sally Smith, was soloist. The church was appointed with two beauty baskets, two vases of flowers on the altar, ferns, palms and two candelabra.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Dennis Ryan, wore a white brocaded taffeta gown fashioned with a boat neckline and a wide bertha. The fitted waist dipped into a full gathered skirt which fell to her ankles. The long sleeves of the gown ended in points over her wrists. She carried a bouquet of white gladioli tips, with white hyacinth around the edge and a white orchid in the center.

Miss Shirley Velzy, who served as maid of honor, and is a close friend of the bride, wore a gown of turquoise brocaded taffeta, fashioned like the bride's gown, only with cap sleeves. She carried a bouquet of Talisman roses, acacia and deep purple hyacinths, tied with a yellow ribbon.

The bridegroom's niece, Carol Ann Chatlain of Columbus, served as flower girl, in a yellow brocaded taffeta gown with a short full skirt, fitted waist and a small bertha. Her bouquet was a miniature of the bridesmaid's.

Mrs. Ryan chose for the occasion a light blue silk dress with black accessories. She wore a pink camellia corsage. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Smith, wore a black crepe corsage.

George N. Smith, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. George Franks and Richard Mumford, friends of the bridegroom, were the ushers.

A reception was held in the undercroft of the church, immediately following the ceremony, with seventy-five guests in tion, with seventy-five guests in attendance. The table was centered with a wedding cake and tapers.

For her wedding trip to the Eastern states, the bride wore a two piece gray corduroy dress with Kelly green accessories. The couple will be at home after March 27, at Reiser road, Freedom Heights.

Mrs. Smith is a graduate of Mansfield Senior high. She is affiliated with Nu Phi Mu Sorority. She has been employed in the office of Colby and Earick, Inc. The bridegroom is a graduate of Mansfield Senior high and he attended Kent university. He is employed at Lumberman's Mutual Insurance company.

Out-of-town guests were present for the wedding from Columbus and Loudonville.

Soups are always welcome on crisp cool days and here's a new way with chicken soup. Just before it goes to the table, add a few bite-sized cubes of mellow rich Calavo to each bowl of chicken consomme. It will look so very pretty and be twice as hearty.

A delicious fruit compote for a dinner dessert may be made from orange segments, pineapple, pear slices and halved preserved figs.

Viewre Club Entertained

The March meeting of the Viewre club was held Friday evening at the home of Miss Vera Symthe, Marion avenue, with eight members present. A lovely dessert luncheon was served with St. Patrick's Day appointments.

Mrs. Arquette Rust conducted the business meeting. It was voted to send a donation to the YWCA for their camp for underprivileged girls.

A paper entitled, "Woman—the Nurse" was given by Mrs. H. M. Rust. Mrs. Paul Thomas spoke on "Gadgets, Some Practical—Others Impractical". The next meeting will be a dinner at the home of Mrs. Arquette Rust, April 22.

Seeks Art Treasure Lost 2,000 Years

By JAMES CALOGERO

BOSTON — (AP) — A 36-year-old archeologist hopes to get his hands on an art treasure that has been just 120 feet from man's reach for 2,000 years.

The treasure lies water-locked on the floor of the Mediterranean sea three miles off Mahdia, a small town near Tunis.

A French expedition tried for four years to recover the submerged art work about 40 years ago. The depth of the water stopped the work after only 20 pieces had been recovered.

Now Vincent Palmer of St. Louis, Mo., believes he has devised a method which will enable his expedition to raise the treasure next summer.

Archeologists say a Roman gallery sank 2,000 years ago while carrying looted art from Greece to Rome. The galley was discovered in 1907 by native sponge divers who thought huge stone pillars lying athwart the vessel were "sleeping giants" of the deep.

A few months after its discovery, Alfred Merlin, curator of the Louvre in Paris, organized an expedition to investigate the wreck. Treacherous currents and the huge pillars, however, hindered efforts to explore the galley's hold.

Palmer is now in Boston, searching through archeological files at Harvard and discussing details of his project with Harvard professors under whom he studied.

Palmer said next summer's expedition will carry the latest in diving gear, including equipment that will enable divers to work in deep water without airlines if the current becomes too strong.

He said he will attempt to remove the huge pillars lying across the vessel by floating them to the surface in the manner the navy raised the sunken submarine Squalus off Portsmouth, N. H. in 1939.

He plans to attack huge rubber pontoons to the pillars and then inflate the pontoons with enough air to bring them slowly to the surface.

Palmer said he would have to ask the permission of the French government to explore the wreck and make some arrangement for the disposition of any loot recovered.

December is the peak month of the year for consumption of baked goods, according to an industry survey. April ranks second and May third.
